Midtown Manhattan’s Premier Co-working Environment Attracts New Office Tenants

Space 530 Inks Office Deals with TAMI, Non-Profit, and Fashion Tech Companies

New York – August 15, 2019 – Space 530, Midtown Manhattan’s premier, full-service private office and co-working environment has quickly become the main hub for new and expanding technology and creative firms. Most recently, four companies from the TAMI, non-profit, and fashion tech worlds have committed to office space within Space 530’s state-of-the-art workspace.

“Over the past year we have attracted many of the industry’s fastest growing companies looking to launch or grow their operations in New York City,” noted Jackie Schletter, Managing Director, at Space 530.

The four newest companies taking space at Space 530 include:

- Virtue Labs, a biotech company based in Raleigh, NC, that uses breakthrough technology to repair damaged hair. This technology, called Alpha Keratin 60ku®, is available exclusively in the company's signature hair care line, Virtue®. The firm will utilize the space as its New York headquarters.
- Cloud-based global provider of digital signage software company, Broadsign, has taken office space at Space 530 for its New York media sales offices.
- New American Leaders, the only national, nonpartisan organization focused on bringing New Americans into the political process, took office space at Space 530. New American Leaders is leading a movement for inclusive democracy by training and inspiring immigrant leaders of all racial and ethnic backgrounds to run for office, building partnerships and coalitions among New American elected officials so they can advance more inclusive policies from state to state, and researching solutions to create a more diverse leadership and make the political system more accessible to all Americans.
- Finally, Altress, the break-out, tech-enabled, direct-to-consumer company that is building the fastest, scalable, on-demand supply chain for apparel in the USA, has moved its offices to Space 530.
