Montefiore's Hutchinson Metro Center Campus Features Art by NYC Students

Bronx, NY – March 31, 2026 – Second grade students from Bronx PS 152 took a special trip to The Gallery of ARTful Medicine at Simone Development Company's Hutchinson Metro Center to view artwork of New York City students as part of the Studio in a School program. After viewing the exhibit, visiting students from Bronx PS 152X participated in a sketching exercise led by Studio in a School Art teacher, Toto Feldman. The current exhibition Young Perspectives: Art by Students from the Five Boroughs is on display through April 30 at the gallery located in the lobby of Tower One of the Hutchinson Metro Center at 1250 Waters Place in The Bronx.

Young Perspectives showcases dynamic works of art created by New York City students from all five boroughs. During the 2024-25 school year, the young student-artists, whose works are displayed in this exhibition, participated in Studio in a School's visual arts programs, where they learned to express themselves through the language of art. "Celebrating the Bronx," a unique portion of the exhibit, features a mural created by Bronx students that now permanently hangs in Montefiore's Department of Otorhinolaryngology and Audiology.

“Montefiore Einstein is happy to continue our long-time partnership with Studio in a School,” said Jodi Moise, Director of The Fine Art Program and Collection at Montefiore Einstein. “Through the works that students have created, we are consistently reminded that art is more than just a visual medium; it can bring a smile to your face, inspire and aid in the healing process.”

Young Perspectives: Art by Students from the Five Boroughs illustrates the progression of children’s artistic development from Pre-Kindergarten through 12th grade. The works on view demonstrate that students throughout New York City can produce high quality artwork when they are afforded access to high quality instructors and materials.

“We are always very proud to host new exhibits at The Gallery of ARTful Medicine, and this latest installation is particularly rewarding as it showcases the works of dozens of aspiring artists in NYC schools,” said Joe Simone, president of Simone Development Companies. “The Fine Art Program and Collection at Montefiore Einstein and Studio in a School have once again joined forces to create a wonderful exhibition showcasing the talent and creativity of young students from across New York City.”
